

Lieke Voorintholt

l.voorintholt@rug.nl

Department of Economics, Econometrics and Finance
University of Groningen
Nettelbosje 2
9747 AE Groningen (NL)

Education

- 2021–present University of Groningen
PhD Candidate in Economics
Advisors: Prof. dr. Adriaan Soetevent & Prof. dr. Gerard van den Berg
- 2019–2021 University of Groningen
MSc (research) in Economics, cum laude
- 2017–2019 University of Groningen
Bachelor Honours Programme
- 2016–2019 University of Groningen
BSc in Liberal Arts and Sciences, summa cum laude
Major in Social Sciences, specialization in Philosophy, Politics & Economics
Exchange semester at McGill University, Montreal

Research Interests

Behavioral economics, Labor economics

Publications

- Voorintholt, L. (2023) Substitutes or complements: A budget-based analysis of the relationship between donating and volunteering. Oxford Economic Papers, 75(4), 1033-1052.
<https://doi.org/10.1093/oep/gpad022>
- Voorintholt, L. (2020). Discounting beyond death: An exploration of intergenerational distribution preferences. Reinvention: an International Journal of Undergraduate Research, 13(1).
<https://reinventionjournal.org/article/view/491>

Working Papers

“For the future of our grandchildren: Grandparenthood and climate change concerns” (with Gerard van den Berg and Adriaan Soetevent)

The effect of climate change on future generations – children and grandchildren of current adult citizens – is often presented as a motivation to care about climate change. This paper investigates whether the hypothesized causal effect of grandparenthood on climate change concerns can be identified in a representative sample of British (potential) grandparents. Using survey data from the Understanding Society panel study, we estimate several models to address the endogeneity of grandparenthood. We employ a variety of approaches and find no empirical support for an unambiguously positive relationship between grandparental status and concerns about climate change. Additional research using different data and survey questions is needed to understand the existence and impact of a potential grandparenthood effect.

Work in Progress

- “The effects of monetary compensation on paid volunteers: Evidence from Germany” (with Annalisa Tassi)
- “Numeracy and the longterm future: An exploration of novel survey data” (with Adriaan Soetevent and Gerard van den Berg)

“Measuring worries about climate change: The effect of a subtle wording change” (with Adriaan Soetevent and Gerard van den Berg, short paper)

Teaching and Research Experience

- 2021–2024 PhD teaching (University of Groningen)
Supervisor BSc Thesis E&BE-Economics (Spring 2022 & 2024)
Tutorial teacher Microeconomics for E&BE: Consumers & Firms (Fall 2021 & 2022)
- 2019–2021 Assistantship positions (University of Groningen)
RA for Prof. dr. Soetevent via SOM graduate school (2020-21)
TA Statistical Modelling for EOR (Spring 2020 & 2021)
SA Microeconomics for E&BE: Consumers & Firms (Fall 2020)
RA Signature area Markets and Sustainability (Fall 2019)

Professional Service

- 2022–2023 Organizer PhD brownbag seminars (Department of Economics, Econometrics and Finance, joint with dr. Max Groneck)
Chair during the seminar, contact person for presenters and secretariat
- 2019 Peer Review Committee (Radboud Honours Academy)
Student representative for visitation and evaluation of Radboud Honours Academy
- 2017–2019 Programme Committee (RuG Bachelor Honours Programme)
Student faculty representative

Presentations

- 2024 Nederlandse Economendag (Den Haag)
CefES International Conference on European Economics and Politics (Zürich)
FEBRI PhD Conference (Groningen)
ESPAnet Low Countries Early Career Research Day (Rotterdam)
- 2022 Guest lecture Utrecht School of Economics (online)
EEA Congress (Milan)
SOM PhD Conference (Groningen)
RGS Doctoral Conference in Economics (online)

Extracurricular Activities

- 2020–2022 Working group “Economy and Religion” (PKN Assen)

Scholarships & Awards

- 2022 SOM graduate school
Best E&B ReMa graduate (thesis) 2021
- 2018 Netherlands Ministry of Education, Culture and Science
Holland Scholarship for studies abroad
- 2018 Groninger University Fund
Subsidy for studies abroad

Languages Dutch (native), English (fluent), French (beginner), Italian (beginner)

Software Stata (advanced), L^AT_EX(advanced), MATLAB (basic)